Greenpeace ship damages coral reef, pays up today

MANILA (Inquirer) — A Greenpeace ship damaged a coral reef off the coast of Palawan last night, and the organization is expected to pay up today.

The incident happened last night when the Greenpeace ship, the Esperanza, was conducting a protest against the proposed expansion of the Palawan International Airport. The ship was anchored near the airport's construction site when it hit a coral reef.

The ship's crew said that the ship was not aware of the reef's location. The ship's captain said that the ship was in the area of the reef when it happened.

The incident happened at about 10 p.m. last night. The ship was anchored near the airport's construction site when it hit a coral reef.

The ONLY Gospel

How many Gospels are there?

There are four Gospels in the Bible. They are the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. These four Gospels are the only ones that are accepted by all Christians.

The Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke are called the Synoptic Gospels. They are called the Synoptic Gospels because they are written in a similar style and cover the same events.

The Gospel of John is called the Gospel of John because it is written by the apostle John. It is called the Gospel of John because it is written by the apostle John.

UN demands Syria

UNITED NATIONS—THE SECURITY Council voted unanimously on Monday for a resolution ordering Syria to cooperate fully with a UN investigation of the assassination of a former Lebanese prime minister or face possible "further action."

The chief UN investigator, German prosecutor Detlev Mehlis, already has named Syrian officials as suspects in the assassination in the plot to kill Rafik Hariri and 22 others in a Feb. 15 bombing in Beirut.

In a recent report, he said the killing was organized by Syrian security officials and their Lebanese allies.

"We have affirmed our just demands of the Syrian government—and made it clear that failure to comply with these demands will lead to serious consequences from the international community," Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice told the 15-member Security Council.

Unanimity was achieved in the Security Council after the United States, Britain, sponsors of the resolution, pushed the last minute to drop an explicit demand for economic sanctions against Syria. Russia, China and Algeria were abstain, diplomats said.

Instead, the resolution warns Syria "could consider further action" if it does not meet demands in the resolution. The resolution also demands that Syria not meet demands in the resolution. The resolution also demands that Syria not meet demands in the resolution.

Syrian Foreign Minister Walid Mu'allaq sharply criticized Mehlis' report, saying his country without due process.

White House plays down revamp calls

WASHINGTON—THE WHITE House on Monday played down calls for a staff shake-up after the indictment of Vice President Dick Cheney's former top aide, Lewis Libby, who will make his first court appearance this week on criminal charges stemming from a CIA-leak probe.

At his arraignment on Thursday, Libby, Cheney's longtime chief of staff, is expected to plead innocent to charges of obstructing justice, perjury and making false statements.

Top White House aide Karl Rove, who remains under investigation in the probe, received a word of confidence from the White House amid Democratic calls for his resignation.

"He continues to do his duties," White House spokesperson Scott McClellan said of Rove, Bush's top political adviser and deputy chief of staff. When asked if Bush retained confidence in Rove, McClellan said: "People who work here at the White House have the confidence of the president." Members of both parties have urged Bush to shake up his White House staff. Reuters

Canada detects flu virus in w

OTTAWA—THE H5 AVIAN INFLUENZA virus has been found in wild migratory birds in Canada, officials said Monday, but it is unlikely the deadly H5N1 strain threatening Asia and Europe and there is no threat to human health.

The virus, whose subtype must still be determined, was detected in 28 ducks in the eastern province of Quebec and five in Manitoba in central Canada out of approximately 4,800 samples, said Jim Clark of the Canadian Food Inspection Agency.

"These findings do not indicate that we are dealing with a virus strain capable of causing significant illness. The evidence we've observed strongly indicates that these healthy birds were not infected with the same virus that is currently present in Asia," Clark said during a press conference.

The H5N1 bird flu virus has killed more than 60 people and prompted the culling of 140 million birds in Asia in the past two years.

In a statement, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency said the birds tested in the national survey were healthy, and there was "no

Cebu archbishop calls for prayer to stop bird flu

By Clifford S. Sison

Archbishop of Cebu, Jose S. Adorno, has called for a day of prayer to stop the spread of bird flu.

Adorno, who is also the president of the Philippine Bishops' Conference, said that the church is deeply concerned about the health of the Filipino people and the environment.

By Clifford S. Sison

Adorno said that the church is not just a passive observer but an active participant in the struggle against bird flu. He called for a day of prayer on April 15, 2006, to seek God's help in stopping the disease.
